

Tom Longstreth

Tom Longstreth joined ReSOURCE (then called ReCycle North) in 1996, five years after its founding. Under his leadership, the organization has expanded its geographic reach, impact, and scope of services. The organization now employs over seventy staff, annually serves 300 trainees, and operates multiple social enterprises that protect the environment while reducing poverty and serving the community in five locations. In 2015 Tom was appointed to the newly constituted State Workforce Investment Board and continues to serve in this capacity. Tom has a master's degree in Public Policy from Harvard's John F. Kennedy School of Government and a Bachelor's degree from Dartmouth College. He lives in West Bolton with his wife Julie and three children Hector, Ebbe and Astrid.